The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

'I Remember When . . .'

We don't know who first said it — the material had been stashed away in some of our old notes — but it is worth re-saying.

I didn't have a very happy childhood—

But nobody worried very much about it. I was too busy, I guess — cutting lawns, shoveling snow, running errands, delivering groceries for 10 cents a load, selling newspapers, doing housechores, going to school. I passed my grades, too. If I hadn't I'd have had the hide tanned off me.

No one concerned himself with my amusements. What fun we had we made. But if we did any damage — like breaking a window in a ballgame — we paid for it by working it out.

I don't suppose people understood me; but if I had said so my mother would have asked: "Why should they?" And no one ever gave a thought to my "problems." They were mine, weren't they? Mine to solve. Why should I expect anyone else to bother?

We never heard phrases like "standard of living," "subsistence level," or "minimum requirements." Our standard of living was whatever my father earned. If my father was laid off, we stopped spending on anything but food and a lot less of that. My dad spent every waking hour looking for work—any work. We lived on savings and if things became too tight we'd move in with relatives — or the relatives would move in with us. If there had been no relatives we would have gone to the only place left — the County Poor House, but that would have been an admission that we couldn't take care of ourselves.

I guess we didn't have much. But we had something that was infinitely more rewarding — we had self-respect, because whatever we had, we earned.

It seems to me that is why America is the strong nation it is today — and will stay strong only so long as there are enough Americans more interested in earning than getting.

And That's the Truth!

Orien Fifer, an editorial page columnist for the ARIZONA GAZETTE, noted the other day that newspaper fiction is often stranger than truth.

Frequently, strange examples crop up — creations of small town editors who happened to be bored at the moment.

He recalled that a chap by the name of L. T. Stone of Winstead, Conn., back in the 1890s, started filing short, offbeat (and fictitious) items to dailies in New York.

Such as: "A farmer plucked his hen for market with a vacuum sweeper.

"A hen laid a red, white and blue egg on July 4.

"A squirrel trained to brush its owner's shoes with his tail.

"A man painted a spider on his bald head to shoo away flies."

But there are modern fakes, too. He reported that UPI had related some that picked up where Stone's entertaining little yarns left off. You remember them!

"A stalled motorist asked a woman driver to give him a push, warning that she must drive at least 30 miles an hour to activate his car's automatic transmission. The woman backs up, accelerates to 30 mph and slams into the rear of the stalled car.

"A construction worker in a concrete mixing truck pours several tons of concrete into the convertible of his unfaithful wife's lover.

"A visitor is stuck to a newly painted toilet seat in her friend's freshly decorated bathroom."

The stories made good reading regardless of their authenticity.

Fifer also related editorial efforts by kids in an elementary school that are no more ambiguous than some which crop up in newspaper stories from time to time.

Kids were told to study up on a profession of their choice. Of those who chose dentistry, here is what they said:

"When he is first getting started, a good dentist might well work around the clock, 12 days a week.

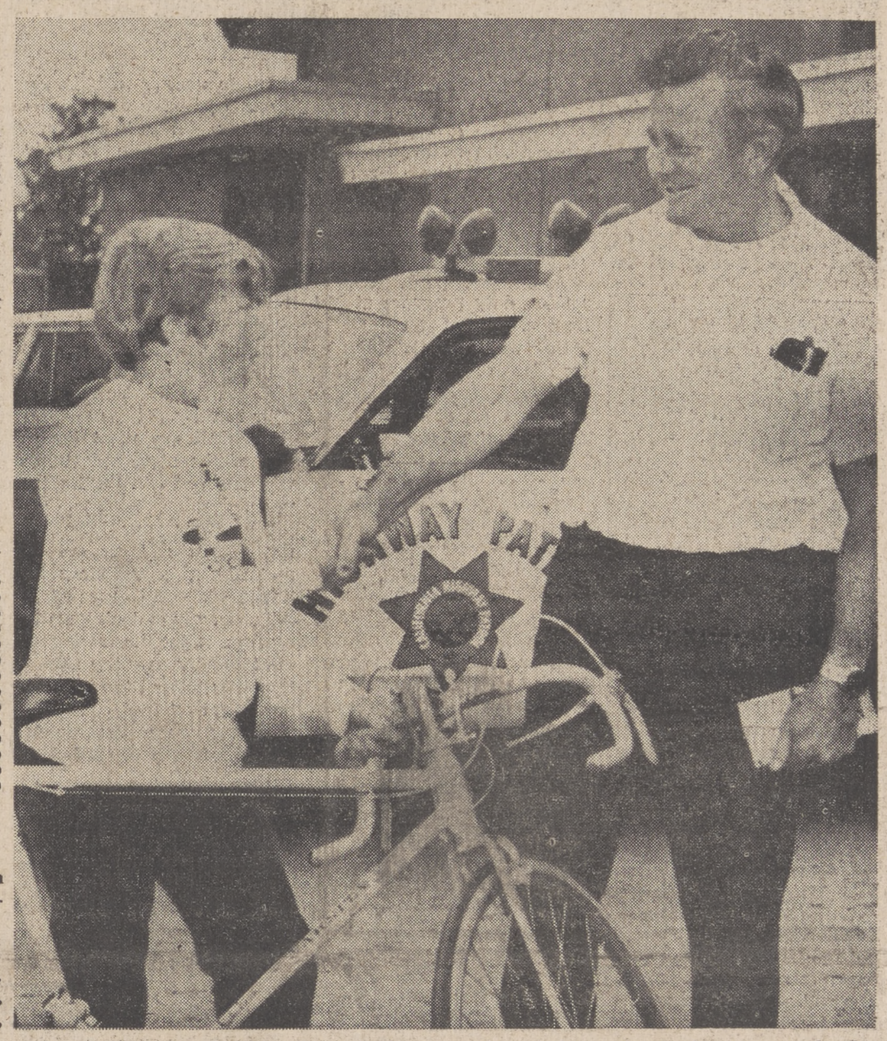
"If I get to be one, I would like to be a dentist in our city's outer skirts.

"I looked up the earning range of dentists twice but I forgot it three times.

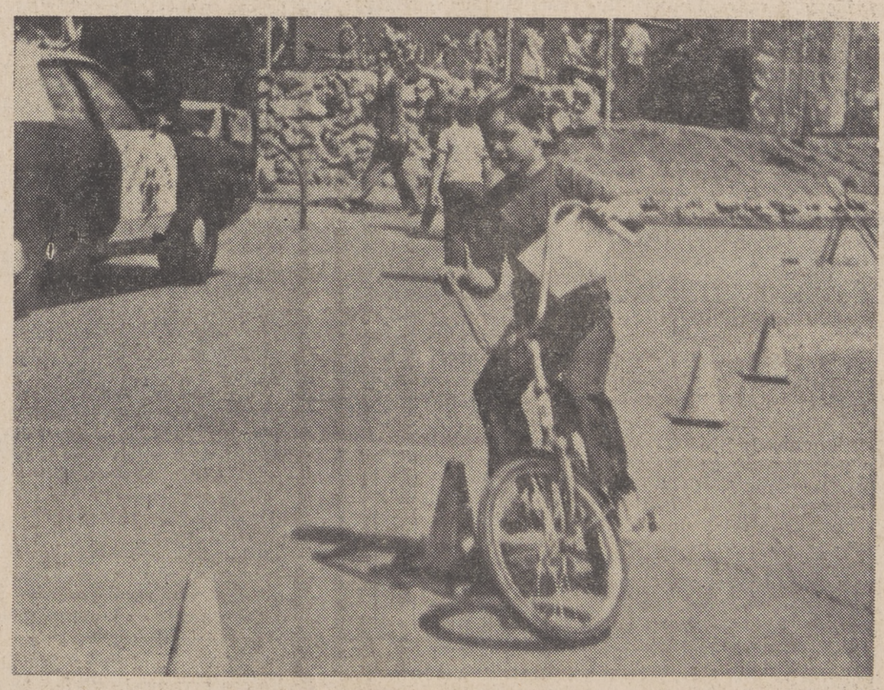
"Will we ever get to the point where we no longer need dentists? The chances are 999 out of 100."

And that's the truth!

Old Time Days Kickoff Dinner Saturday Night



GRAND CHAMP — Top bicyclist and winner of a ten-speed bike donated by the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club is Tab Wineteer, who accepts congratulations from his dad, Dwight. Wineteer, of 3583 Citrus st., Lemon Grove, was the winner with 963 of a possible 1,000 points in the Lemon Grove Bicycle Rodeo held Saturday at Golden Avenue School under the sponsorship of the Highway Patrol's Accident Reduction Team. To qualify for the rodeo, Wineteer and other youngsters had to compete in preliminary rodeos held at local elementary schools. Winteer competed at Vista La Mesa, as did John Weissinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weissinger, of 7374 Carmenita rd., Lemon Grove, who finished fourth Saturday. Other top cyclists were Stephen Wright, from Rancho School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferron, of 537 Elkelton blvd., Spring Valley, who finished second, and Michael Gallegos, of St. John's, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gallegos, of 2106 Bonita st., Lemon Grove, who finished third.



TOUGH JOB — Winning a bike rodeo is no easy task, as each contest must compete in several different events to compile points. Riding through closely placed cones without putting the feet down or touching a cone is one event. Other events include riding a specified distance as slowly as possible without touching the ground, compiling points for each second up to a maximum of one minute, riding a "figure-8" course without touching blocks spaced spaced 12 inches apart, and traveling a straight line for a specified distance without touching blocks spaced six inches apart. Also included in the point total were a possible 350 points in a written bike safety test.

Carnival May 9-13; Parade Set May 19

Plans are still being formulated for the annual Lemon Grove Old Time Days celebrations, as the OTD Kickoff Dinner is scheduled for Saturday night at the Lemon Grove VFW Hall.

Cocktails are at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m., catered by Jac's Catering. Included in the dinner will be sirloin tip, ham, salads, and pumpkin pie.

There are still tickets available for the affair, which will include dancing to Bill Tabor's orchestra. Tickets, at $5.50 each, can be obtained through the chamber of commerce office, phone 469-9621, Checker Auto Parts, Bank of America, and Del Ron's.

Rita Wells, door prize chairman for the dinner, is currently collecting valuable prizes from local merchants.

Next on the OTD agenda is the second annual OTD Carnival at Saint John of the Cross Church.

The carnival, sponsored by the chamber of commerce, will include about a dozen rides, as well as several booths operated by local service clubs and organizations.

The carnival will open Wednesday afternoon, remaining open until 9 p.m. Carnival hours are 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, noon to 11 p.m. Friday, 9 a.m. to midnight Saturday, and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Advance ticket sales are now underway, with tickets available from the chamber office, Del Ron's, the Food Factory, Lincoln Finance, Checker Auto, and other local businesses.

Advance sale tickets are sold at $1 for a book of five tickets, representing a substantial savings over those bought at the carnival for 35 to 50 cents each. Several businesses locally are giving tickets away to their customers as a promotion.

For detailed ticket information, contact the chamber office or Lincoln Finance. Booth space is also still available for local clubs and information on that can be obtained from Gary Sweet at Lincoln Finnace.

The highlight of the month will be May 18-20, when thet actual Old Time Days celebration is held, including a big parade down Broadway Saturday at 11 a.m.

Parade chairman Don McCray has already received several entries, including several floats, the Mt. Miguel High School marching band, horses, motorcycle units, clowns, and antique cars.

Grand Marshal for the parade has yet to be announced.

Flag Day Parade Kickoff Dinner Tomorrow Night

The Casa de Oro Flag Day Parade kickoff dinner has been scheduled for tomorrow evening at the Ox Bow Inn, 916 Campo rd., Casa de Oro, with cocktails at 6 p.m. followed by dinner at 7 p.m.

Included in the gala, which will serve as a fund raiser for the June 9 parade, will be dancing to the music of Paul Murillo's band.

Dinner will be prime rib.

John Blackford, of the sponsoring Casa de Oro Business Association, said that tickets to the dinner are $10 per person and reservations may be made through his office at 465-6500.

Also planned for the dinner, which Blackford will emcee, will be films of last year's parade, door prizes, and entertainment. Debra Holland, recently-crowned Miss Spring Valley, will attend.

Meanwhile, plans for the parade are shaping up, with several entries already confirmed. The parade, in its third year, is expected to be the bigest yet, with over 75 units participating.

Included in the entry list so far are an 85-piece military band, the City-County Marching Band, the Mt. Miguel ROTC, several equestrian units, one motorcycle group, and plenty of clowns.

Plans are being formulated for a special float with former prisoners of war, in keeping with the patriotic theme of the parade.

Invitations have been sent to high school bands, and it is also hoped to have some antique autos in the parade.

In connection with the parade, a daylight fireworks show has been scheduled for 3 p.m., with the parade to follow. Dedication of the gateway monument at Campo and Kenwood will also be a part of the afternoon.

An old fashioned street dance, with music supplied by four different groups, will follow the parade. A pot luck dinner earlier scheduled has been cancelled, but plans are being formulated for 99-cent sack dinners to be offered by food establishments in Casa de Oro.

Cowboy Act Averts Tragedy

It was shades of the old West all over again.

It wasn't a runaway stagecoach. It was a runaway auto.

Sam Thorp was driving his Thomas Disposal truck on its morning rounds Wednesday last week with 18-year-old John Berkey riding "shotgun" — on the running board.

A woman's car was in the middle of the street on Canton dr. near Imperial with the hood up. The woman, speaking poor English, muttered something like "battery no good" as she walked toward the truck.

Her car started coasting down Canton dr. toward Imperial. Berkey jumped off the truck and chased it. Some 300 feet down the street he caught up with it — from the passenger's side. It had picked up considerable momentum by the time Berkey crawled over to the driver's side. He braked it quickly to a halt. For the first time he noticed a year-old youngster asleep on the back seat.

The woman thanked Berkey and Thorp profusely in Spanish — and drove away. She didn't give them her name and they didn't think to get her license number.

Phoney Watches Sold In Latest Bunco Operation

The San Diego Sheriff's Department has reports of a bunco operation, involving the sale of "phoney" Omega watches. Victims have been approached at small businesses in the Oceanside and Vista area. The sales pitch is that the watches were illegally smuggled into the country, and that they were being sold for a half of what they are worth.

The watches are gold in color, the man's type is a smooth face, with the Omega symbol; also stamped on the back of the case is the triangle that would normally appear on the inside of the case not visible. The triangle is slightly crooked, not centered.

Also stamped on the case is the code number 750, the European mark for 18 karat gold. The watches however are not gold, but gold plated. If sold by a reputable firm they would cost approximately $19.95. The inside works are marked Omega, and are silver plated. A real Omega watch is also marked inside the case, but all works are gold.

The ladies watch is the bracelet type, gold in color with a black dial. This watch is also stamped on the back of the case with the same type of triangle, also stamped Omega, 750.

The suspect is described as a white male, 5-7, about 30, black curly hair, dark complexion, speaks some Spanish and driving an Oldsmobile.

If you have been contacted or you are contacted by this person, please call the Sheriff's Fraud Unit, 236-2951, or 236-3113.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The other day you ran a story on the "Foxy Lady" after you came to my place of business without revealing your identity.

I don't know what the object of the story was but it will never win a Pulitzer prize.

Whatever your intentions, my business increased dramatically after the story was published.

I suspect you don't have the courage to let the same readers know that we are now attempting to bust the inflationary spiral on food costs.

— that we now serve full sized beef or ham sandwiches — with DRAFT BEER, for only 45 cents — total cost.

This specialty is served 10 a.m.-2 p.m. daily Monday through Saturday.

Come back over and I'll buy you a sandwich — and a beer — but you've got to identify yourself first!

Sincerely,
John Peterson

Lemon Grove.

Dear Editor,

I want to express my appreciation to you for putting the Last Supper picture on the front page of the "Review". We were pleased with the number of people in attendance at the service. We know that many came because they saw the picture in the paper.

I am sure our entire congregation would want to join me in thanking you. We are indebted to you not only for the coverage but for all the coverage you have given us in the past.

Sincerely,

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

"Los sentidos" (the senses) are a popular subject in Spanish. There are "cinco sentidos" (five senses) and each plays an important role in our ability to perceive our environment in Spanish or English. They permit us to see and hear the words we use.

"Vista" (sight or vision) is a principal sense. Conversationally it may appear in phrases like "El tiene mala vista." (He has poor eyesight.) or "La vista es uno de los sentidos." (Sight is one of the senses.). Other phrases might be "Ella tiene buena vista." (She has good sight.) or (She has good vision.) and "El doctor revisa su vista." (The doctor is checking your vision.).

"Ciega" is the word for one who has no sight or vision. This may appear with phrases like "Ella es ciega." (She is blind.) or "Mi amigo es ciego." (My friend is blind.).

"Sordo" describes a person as being "deaf." This description may appear in phrases like "El alumno es sordo." (The student is deaf.) or "El sordo no puede oir." (The deaf person can not hear.).

"Mudo" describes a person that can not speak. The equivalent word in English is "dumb" or "mute." Thus we may refer to a person that is unable to speak by using the following phrase: "Ella no puede hablar, es muda." (She can not speak, she is mute.).

"Oir" means "to hear." This may be used in phrases like "Me gusta oir la musica." (I like to hear the music.) and "Yo no puedo oir bien." (I can not hear well.). Also we may say "Vamos a oir su presentacion." (We are going to hear your presentation.).

"Oler" means "to smell." This may appear in phrases like "Es bonito oler las rosas." (It is nice to smell roses.) and "No me gusta oler gasoline." (I don't like to smell gasoline.). Several other ways to use "oler" are seen in the sentences "Es agradable oler el perfume." (It is pleasant to smell the perfume.), and "Puede usted oler el humo?" (Can you smell the smoke?).

"Probar" is the way to say "to taste." Thus we may say "Me gustaria probar el pastel." (I would like to taste the cake.) and "Voy a probar la lemonada." (I am going to taste the lemonade.).

You may continue to learn the Spanish words related to the "cinco sentidos" (five senses). They appear in the following sentences. The phonetic guide will aid you in the pronunciation and you may practice the same phrases with the recorded voice by dialing 276-2762.

Mark Twain Program Is Saturday Night

Grossmont College's Office of Community Services and the Southwest DeMolay League will present Grossmont College student Dan Abbott in a re-creation of Mark Twain at 8 p.m., Sunday, in the Fine Arts Recital Hall.

For his two-hour show, Abbott, a member of Grossmont College's Forensic Workshop, spends nearly that long in front of the make-up mirror as he re-creates the looks and mannerisms of Mark Twain. He became interested in Mark Twain after hearing a Hal Holbrook record on Twain. He began collecting Twain's works, pictures, reviews — everything he could find — in order to become more familiar with the character he planned to portray.

The public is invited to share "An Evening With Mark Twain" as this talented young student does his uncanny impression of the famous author and humorist.

Wood Badge Display Highlight of Scout Fair

The "college degree" of Scouting, the Wood Badge which denotes top quality training experience for adult Scouters, will be presented for the first time at the Scout Fair, Del Mar Fairground, May 12.

The exhibit, manned by members of the Wood Badge Staff, will give the public an opportunity to receive first hand information on the 8-day outdoor advanced training course designed for top volunteers who have held and will continue to hold responsible positions of leadership in the council, according to Paul I. Greenwood, course director and vice chairman for training in San Diego County Council.

"Other exhibits will include a variety of displays and demonstrations that have historically been popular among Cubs, Scouts, and Explorers," said George "Bud" Stiehl, activities director. Pioneer land, one of the eleven areas of participation, will feature a series of exhibits from rope-making to wilderness engineering.

What's wilderness engineering? Every good "Scout" knows that it encompasses hundreds of individual outdoor skills, such as the use of the knife and ax, knot-tying, lashing, construction of "monkey bridges," 20 foot high signal towers, and survivor skills.

"Over 300 separate units have made application to participate to date, thus making this the biggest and best fair ever," said Robert Arnhym, General Chairman.

Cubs, Scouts, and Explorers are right now engaged in a county-wide ticket sales campaign. The $1 ticket not only enables its bearer to enter the day-long fair but entitled him to a $1 discount on a large pizza of his choice purchased at any one of the seven Straw Hat Pizza Parlours throughout the county.

Pat Tobin, ticket sales chairman, explained that the proceeds from ticket sales are plowed back into a quality program for the boys through camp development.

In addition to the prizes that can be earned by the Scouts for selling the tickets, the units themselves can earn up to 50% of the total tickets sold by the unit for their own use said Tobin.

Over 60,000 San Diegans are expected to attend the Fair.

Mrs. Pengelley Is Director Of Women Voters

Delegates to the biennial Convention of the League of Women Voters of California last week adopted a two-year "action agenda."

This means, that for the next two years, the 82 local leagues in California will seek new ways to carry out present legislative goals by developing new techniques for lobbying and building public support.

Delegates defeated a proposed study of the state's mental health programs in favor of concentrating on effective implementation of current goals.

The Convention adopted the member consensus resulting from the two-year study of education. As one result of this study, the league will support legislation which increases state funding for education and equalizes tax support.

A new voting rights position based upon a re-study of voter problems was also adopted. Leagues will continue to support the right of every citizen to vote and measures to encourage an active and well-informed electorate.

League goals based upon previous state studies of the administration of justice, housing, air and water quality, state revenues and revision of the state constitution was reaffirmed by delegates.

Highlighting the convention was the election of five new officers and six directors. Mrs. Betty Pengelley, of Lemon Grove, was named a director.

Cinco de Mayo Marked At L.G. Junior High

Cinco de Mayo came a little early to the Lemon Grove Junior High school.

The great celebration of all Mexico came on Wednesday, sponsored by the Mexican-American club of L.G. Jr. Hi.

During an afternoon assembly, students saw plays, Mexican dances, skits and took part in pinata ceremonies. The latter consisted of taking blindfolded swings at a hanging papier mache figurine which splits open when properly hit, pouring its contents of goodies to the floor.

And there was pan dulce — that Mexican delicacy which is a crisp, sugar-coated bread.

Two youngsters involved in the Cinco de Mayo production were Ricky Nunez and Mario Rubalcaba, both seventh graders. They also had parts in a play "Pablo and Miss Jones".

The assembly event was an idea of Frances Olsen and Barry Bernasconi, two social workers at the school, and Mary Diaz, of the United Project Understanding.

Indian Senior Citizen Center Opening Held

The Rincon Indian Reservation Senior Citizen Center opened Sunday.

For the benefit of elderly Indians on the reservations in need of warm, comfortable housing and some daily care, it also has had side benefits for the Public Employment Program participants who rebuilt and refurbished the housing units, according to the County of San Diego Community Affairs Officer Robert Lopez.

The Rincon Senior Citizen Center is the result of a year's work performed by six PEP employees at the Rincon Indian Reservation. Some of the more difficult achievements in the endeavor were the moving of houses from various locations in Escondido onto the reservation, the preparation of land and laying of new foundations for the houses, and the installation of underground utilities and sanitation services.

The houses were donated to the center by Ruben Nelson of Escondido. The Indian Public Health Service Agency helped develop the sanitation services and was instrumental in obtaining funds for a sewage system. The houses had to be completely renovated.

The six PEP employees were assigned the work required on the units and, with some professional assistance, became familiar with this special type of work.

They learned basic plumbing procedures, electrical and wiring work, roof installation, and inside/outside painting, giving them an opportunity to move into permanent employment in these fields.

Student-Teen Night on Padres Weekend Schedule

The Padres offer spring bargains for all baseball fans this weekend and Monday at San Diego Stadium.

All student-teens will be able to purchase a reserved seat in the loge level for only $1 on Student-Teen Night Saturday when the Padres play the Pittsburgh Pirates. Saturday is also Little Swinger night.

And on Monday, when Chicago is the opposition, all reserved seats in the Stadium will be half price of the regular adult cost on Family Night.

That means regular $4 tickets will be sold for $2, $3.50 tickets for $1.75 and $2.50 tickets for $1.25. Furthermore, on Monday night all general admission seats will cost only 50 cents.

Around these two spectacular savings specials, the Padres have scheduled a pageant featuring the popular Sea World coupons good for family discounts and free Shamu kites.

And the second of five Picture-Autograph Days is set for Sunday when Dean's will distribute picture packets of six Padre players and coaches who will be available for autographs prior to the game's 1 p.m. start.

Fans this weekend will be treated to the best in baseball as the Padres battle two standout clubs in the National League's eastern division. The Pirates, division champs last year and world champs in 1971, provide the argument Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 and on Sunday. Then the Cubs arrive for three games starting Monday evening.

The Padres, with the cooperation of radio station KCBQ, have gone all out to make Teen-Student Night the most appealing in history.

In addition to the $1 reserved seat for teens Friday night, there will be sensational prizes awarded every inning. The prize list includes motorcycles, 10-speed bicycles, cameras, concert tickets, albums and six packs of Pepsi.

AWSDO Tourney Sets '74 Dates

Seventh annual Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament dates will be January 24-27, 1974, tournament chairman Hal Tebbetts has announced.

The Open will be preceded by a Celebrity Pro-Am on January 22, 23.

The AWSDO will be the fourth event on the PGA's Western swing following Los Angeles, Phoenix and Tucson in that order and preceding Hawaii. This year's dates were the final ones on the tour out here, causing some pros to pass it up to make the long drive back to the East coast.

Tebbetts also announced that the PGA had given permission for the tournament to use both North and South Torrey Pines courses on the first two days of the Open before playing the last two days on Torrey Pines South. Actually, this year's Open used both courses the first two days when rain made it necessary to activate an alternate plan.

The Celebrity Pro-Am will also use both Torrey Pines courses, thus keeping the entire six-day event in one location. In previous years it was held at Torrey Pines and at either La Costa or Stardust.

Due to the need to keep both North and South courses open for practice rounds, a new location will have to be found for half of the qualifying round on January 21. The other half has been at Carlton Oaks.

Track-Field Prelims

The Grossmont League Track and Field Preliminaries will be held on Friday, at 1 p.m. at Mt. Miguel High School. Admission will be 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

Matadors Drop Two; Monarchs Split Pair

It was a bad week for Spring Valley nines in the Grossmont League last week, as Mt. Miguel lost two games to slide from fourth place into a tie for fifth, and Monte Vista split a pair of games to drop into a first place tie.

Monte Vista led the league with a 7-1 record entering last week's action, but made an ill-fated trip to Granite Hills Tuesday, where the Eagles jumped on poor pitching for 26 runs and a 20-3 victory.

Rick Baker started for the Monarchs, but lasted only 1/3 of an inning as he gave up two hits, five walks, and eight runs. Dave Munoz came in to relieve but gave up two more runs before the inning ended.

Monte Vista picked up single tallies in the first, third, and seventh, while Granite Hills tallied once in the third, twice in the fifth, and seven times in the sixth to put the game away.

The loss, coupled with a win by El Capitan, tied the two schools for first place.

Mount Miguel hosted Helix Tuesday afternoon, seeking revenge for an earlier Helix victory.

Steve Long started on the mound for Mt. Miguel, but ran into trouble in the third and fourth innings, giving up two runs in the third frame and four more in the fourth, giving Helix a 6-0 lead.

Mt. Miguel bats boomed in the bottom of the fourth, as Jess Jenner ripped a grand slam home run and Bill Cohen followed with a solo clout to make it 6-5.

Helix took a 7-5 lead in the sixth inning when Jim French doubled in what proved to be the winning tally. Mt. Miguel pushed another run across in the bottom of the inning to stay within a run, but couldn't get any more.

On Friday, Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista squared off, and Mt. Miguel again came out on the short end of things, 5-3.

Monte Vista, bitter after Tuesday's thumping by Granite Hills, came out strong in the first few innings, getting a run in the first frame on a triple and a double, adding another tally in the second with a solo homer by pitcher Dave Munoz, and collecting three more in the third on three-run home run by Morgan Krehbiel.

Mt. Miguel picked up three unearned runs in the fourth on two errors, but the biggest inning of the game was in the seventh.

In that inning, Mt. Miguel loaded the bases, with the help of two walks by Munoz, and with two out, Phil Williamson settled into the batter's box with the tying run at second base. Munoz struck him out on a knuckle curve to end the game.

Mt. Miguel will travel to El Cajon at 3 p.m. tomorrow, while Monte Vista hosts Grossmont, also at 3 p.m.

Gulls Set 1972-73 Records

The San Diego Gulls set many records during the 1972-73 season as Jack Evans led his team to a 32-29-11 mark in his first season as coach of the orange and blue.

Perhaps the most satisfying of the new team records was the Gulls performance on home ice. San Diego was almost unbeatable in the Sports Arena all season long, finishing up with a 26-6-4 record. In the 36 home games, San Diego outscored the opposition 139 to 71; Goalie Ken Broderick recorded his three shutouts on home ice against Portland, Omaha and Denver. Bob Champoux blanked Portland in San Diego on November 10 and made a record breaking 12 saves, the least number of stops by a Gull netminder for a full game in the history of the club.

With the high number of wins at home, the Gulls also set two other records. They were most points at home in a single season, 56 points (26 wins and 6 ties), and fewest losses at home, a total of six.

A tribute to the Gulls defense and goaltending this year was the number of goals allowed in the 72 game season. Besides having the top two goalies with the best goals against average in the league (Ken Broderick led the WHL with a 2.94 goals against mark and Bob Champoux was the runner-up at 3.31), they also placed two defensemen on the all-star team in John Miszuk and Al LeBrun. Miszuk was a first team selection and LeBrun was chosen for the second squad. The Gulls as a team allowed only 223 goals this past season, the best record in the WHL. The 223 goals allowed tied a team record which was set during the 1970-71 campaign.

Nicknamed the "Wild Bunch", the Gulls were just that as they led the league with 1248 penalty minutes. In the process of leading the WHL, San Diego had six men over the 100 minute mark in penalty minutes. The six include Bruce Cowick (161), Jim Graham (144), Bud Debrody (124), George Swarbrick (113), Rick Foley (110), and Al LeBrun (101). The Gulls also led the league with 429 minor penalties called against them and they also led with 21 misconducts. A total of 36 majors were whistled against San Diego.

The Gulls set a team record with a sudden flurry of goals against the Salt Lake City Golden Eagles in the last game of the regular season. In the second period of that game, Nels Venerus, George Swarbrick, Bob Courcy and Rick Foley all scored goals within the space of one minute and thirty four seconds, a new club mark. Gerry Goyer added a fifth goal that same period setting another Gull record of five goals in four minutes and four seconds. San Diego won the game 6-2.

The Gulls also recorded the most number of ties ever on the road in a season, a total of seven.

Buddy Hackett: Another Bogey?

Buddy Hackett Heads Field Of Tournament of Comics

Fun-loving and unpredictable Buddy Hackett, chairman of the 12th Annual Comedians' Golf Classic and Awards banquet, heads a roster of more than 40 star-studded celebrities who will gather at Tournament of Champions-trodden track — La Costa — to show the world how others play the game, May 18 and 19.

"There will be some championship golf played here, too," promises Hackett. Our pro of the year is the winningest rookie ever — Lanny Wadkins. But he may never be the same when we get through with the lesson he's gonna get from such champs as Jack Lemmon, Billy Barty, Jan Murray and about forty other experts," Buddy said.

"Not only that, but our Queen is Ruth Buzzie, from Laugh-In — and our first tee announcer is Bill Ballance, who has a few choice introductions in his repertoire."

Hackett succeds Jack Lemmon who served as chairman of the popular event for the past 2 years and is now Honorary Chairman. Monty Hall is Auction Chairman. The proceeds will benefit a new concept in handicapped child care, "CARE VILLAGE," a residence-respite and activity center for severely handicapped children. Admission donation is $5 a day, with a maximum of 3,000 admitted daily, which includes clubhouse and unrestricted grounds privileges.

Tickets are available at most San Diego handicap association offices and the Home Federal Savings & Loan Association's 14 branch offices.

Dial Whips Moose Lodge In Re-Play Of Protest

Moose Lodge lost its pitching, One Hour Martinizing hitting continued at a torrid place, and the second week of Spring Valley Little League action concluded Saturday with Martinizing in first place and Moose Lodge tied with five other teams for second place.

The week's action began Wednesday with a re-play of a protested game which had earlier been won by the Moose, 12-5, but was replayed because of a protest.

In the replay, Moose took a two-run advantage on a double by Ralph Amargo and a home run by John Valluzzi in the second inning. In the third inning, however, Dial Finance got two doubles, a triple, an error, and a wild pitch to score six runs. Dial added a pair of runs in the sixth to coast to the 8-2 victory.

Moose Lodge continued to have trouble with its pitching Saturday, but still managed a 16-12 decision over Luigi's Restaurant. Moose took the lead, 6-0 in the first inning, but Luigi's battled back with five tallies in the bottom of the inning.

Moose added five runs in the second inning to take a six-run lead and coasted to the victory.

The game marked the second time in as many games that Moose Lodge pitching failed, although excellent hitting brought the team through in the second contest.

One Hour Martinizing won its only game of the week to move into sole possession of first place, whipping Berg Electric, 10-4. Carrying the big bats for Martinizing were Mike Delia, who hit two doubles and drove in three runs, Richard Sing, who knocked in four runs, and Zane Cramer, who belted in three runs and collected a save on the mound in relief of winning pitcher Wayne Yost.

Jackson Supply blasted Dial Finance, 12-4, as Kevin Bland tossed perfect ball for three innings before James Dennis took over the pitching chores for the winners. Jackson grabbed a four-run lead in the first inning and coasted the rest of the way.

In the only other major league game, Kiwanis whipped the Letter Carriers, 7-4, with three runs in the last inning. Kiwanis took a 2-0 lead in the first inning but Letter Carriers bounced back to tie it in the second. Kiwanis took a 4-2 lead in the fourth, but the Carriers tied it again in the bottom of the frame.

In the top of the sixth, John Single belted a bases-loaded single to drive in two runs, and Jerry Oleson sacrified another one. Gordon Nicholson, on the mound for Kiwanis, shut out the Letter Carriers in the bottom of the inning to notch the victory.

In the intermediate league, Mission Bay Concrete blasted Alesi Plumbing, 21-7, as winning pitcher Scott Mednicino hit a single and two doubles and scored four times to aid his own cause.

Colwell Insurance beat beat Heath's Texaco, 6-5, after nearly blowing a 5-0 lead. Heath got four runs in the fourth and another in the fifth to trail by only one run as the last inning opened.

With two down and two men on base, Jim McKnight struck out to end the game.

In the only other intermediate game, Art's Lumber triumped Quick-Way Construction, 14-11. Art's led, 14-8, going into the bottom of the fifth inning, when Danny Lawton hit a bases loaded triple to make it 14-11.

In the minor league, Worthy Plumbing stopped Boosters, 8-7. A/C Appliance beat Zumwalt's 9-7. Lomita Bowl blasted Well's Upholstery, 27-3, and Maple Cottage trumped Polar Foods, 4-1.

Gettysburg National Cemetery was opened in 1863.

Top Racers Due at Cajon

The top names in local auto racing are expected to be back in action this Saturday night as Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley, Ed Hale of Lemon Grove and Larry Aufdengarten of San Diego battle for the super stock victories at Cajon Speedway.

In last week's action, Hale came within .08 of a second of snapping the all-time Cajon single-lap record in setting the fastest qualifying time over the paved, banked oval.

Aufdengarten jumped away to a big lead in the 30-lap main event, and held the lead for 20 laps before McIntyre came on with a strong finish to win the race.

Also at last week's races, 5,881 fans packed the track, and more were turned away at the gate.

Gates open at the track at 6:30 p.m., with qualifying at that time, followed by the first race at 8 p.m.

Chargers to Open Season at Washington

Unlike their baseball neighbors, the San Diego Chargers are going to Washington, D.C.

The Chargers open their 1973 National Football League season against the Washington Redskins at the Nation's Capital on Sunday, Sept. 16.

After colliding with the National Conference champions of Coach George Allen, the Chargers come home to San Diego Stadium to tackle O. J. Simpson, Dennis Shaw and the Buffalo Bills on Sept. 23 and the Cincinnati Bengals of La Jolla's Paul Brown on Sept. 30.

San Diego Coach Harland Svare placed his approval on the 14-game Charger schedule, released by the NFL today.

"I'm very happy with the schedule; it's balanced and fair," said Svare. "After last year, nothing seems insurmountable any more."

Last year, Svare's first as Charger coach, San Diego had the league's toughest schedule and finished with a 4-9-1 record for last place in the American Conference West.

After facing Cincinnati, the Chargers have rugged back-to-back road games against AFC Central champion Pittsburgh Steelers, Oct. 7, and AFC West rivals — Kansas City Chiefs at San Diego, Nov. 4; Denver Broncos at Denver, Nov. 11, and Oakland Raiders, at San Diego, Nov. 25. Archie Manning and the New Orleans Saints provide an outside threat at San Diego, Nov. 18.

The Chargers will unpack their long underwear for two wintry excursions in December. They travel to New England to face the Patriots, Dec. 2, and end the season at Kansas City against the Chiefs, Dec. 16. In between is a date with the Denver Broncos at San Diego, Dec. 9.

Season tickets for Charger games, available in 11-game full season or 8-game league season packages, now are on sale at San Diego Stadium Gate E.

Aztec Club Opens Drive

The Aztec Club, a civic organization supporting San Diego State University athletic programs, launched its annual membership drive this week, shooting at a goal of $205,000.

Last year the Aztec Club raised $130,000 for what was to become the last of Don Coryell's 12 years as Aztec football coach.

After completing a 10-1 season and running his career won-lost record to 104-19-3, Coryell accepted the head coaching job with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and was succeeded by long-time assistant Claude Gilbert.

Aztec Club funds are used principally to provide scholarships and off-campus jobs for San Diego State athletes. Bill Miller, executive director of the club, said the $130,000 raised last year is considerably less than was raised by booster groups for 1973 Aztec football opponents Houston, Iowa State and Florida State.

Aztec Club membership privileges include season-ticket priorities, schedule and membership cards, and written reports from the coaches. Persons making larger contributions also receive parking and Stadium Club privileges at San Diego Stadium, football and basketball press books and recognition of their donations in game programs.

Activities supported by the club include basketball and football awards banquets, a football kickoff banquet, weekly gridiron luncheons, the Red-Black spring football game, the Red-Black tipoff basketball game and Junior Aztec Club sports clinics.

Motocross Carded

An AMA Dist. 38 sanctioned motocross will be held Saturday and Sunday at the race course on Otay Mesa rd. opposite South Bay Speedway in Chula Vista.

Experts sign up at 7 a.m.; novices at 10. Entry fee is $3.50. Admission, $1.50.

Track Challenge Faced by Jim Ryun and Kip Keino

Jim Ryun and Kip Keino are the headliners but Jerome Howe is getting his share of the money on the International Track Association professional tour.

Howe, a Kansas State graduate, has earned $2,700, just behind Ryun's $2,800 and ahead of Keino's $2,650 as the pros prepare for the next meet at Toronto on May 11. The tour then moves to Philadelphia May 12 and onto the super-fast San Diego Sports Arena boards on May 19.

Now, just who is Jerome Howe?

Well, he was the 1972 National AAU champion in the 1500 meters, winning in 3:38.2. That's equivalent to a 3:56 mile and was the fastest metric time posted by an American last year.

Howe finished fourth in the Final Olympic Trials and went to Munich as an alternate.

"He's still young," says former Kansas State teammate and fellow Olympian Ken Swenson. "He's getting stronger all the time. I think track and field is going to see a lot of Jerome."

Howe has been running both the mile and two mile on ITA circuit and holds wins over both Keino and Ryun. He's run 4:00 on the circuit, second only to Ryun's 3:59.8 at Detroit.

"He's a tough competitor," says Swenson, former NCAA and AAU champion in the 880. "He comes across as modest but believe me he always thinks he can win.

Howe, 22, is a powerfully-built 5-10½ and 150. His tremendous leg drive always makes him dangerous in the stretch.

Aztec Volleyball Team to Meet UCLA

Two more key Southern California Intercollegiate Volleyball Assn. matches are on tap this week for the San Diego State volleyball team.

Friday the Aztecs will travel to Pauley Pavilion to meet the defending NCAA Champions UCLA Bruins. The Bruins are 4-4 in SCIVA play this year and lost a 3-0 match to the Aztecs earlier in the year.

On Monday the Aztecs return home for an 8 p.m. game in Peterson Gym against the Trojans of USC. The Aztecs and Trojans are currently tied for second in the SCIVA with 6-2 records with Cal State Long Beach in first with a 7-2 record. USC is led by Brazilian star Carlos Fonseca and defeated the Aztecs 3-0 in a match early in the year.

Land to Oversee Stadium Operations

Les Land, former general manager of the San Diego Sports Arena, and now vice president of Consolidated Facility Services, will supply his talents in a smoother operation of the San Diego Stadium, it was announced this week.

Land, representing Consolidated, will report directly to E. J. Bavasi, president of the Padres. Other tenants of the Stadium are the Chargers and the Aztecs.

Consolidated now staffs the stadium for all events. With Land in charge of the operation the Stadium should be the best operation in the country, Bavasi said.

Bavasi is also manager of the San Diego Management Co. the organization that operates the Stadium by agreement with the City of San Diego.

Land is also former business manager of the Chargers.

Bee Swarming Season Nears

Lots of rain and plenty of sunshine produce acres of flowers all over the County — and that means an abundance of swarming bees.

Although bee swarming is slowed down by wet weather, a few days of warm sun will bring them out, according to Charles Morse, Chief Apiary Inspector for San Diego County.

Swarming season is when a hive divides. The old hive becomes overcrowded and the old queen, taking some bees with her, begins looking for a new home.

"They're not really fussy and will pick also any place where it's dark — an abandoned gas tank, under the hood of a car, a cave, an old cardboard box, or the meter boxes on the side of houses," Morse said. "They especially seem to like the walls of a house because that provides an attractive dark place. Any cracks or holes in the wall provide an excellent entrance. The important thing is to get them before they enter the wall. Anyone seeing a swarm near a house should contact a beekeeper immediately to come and pick it up."

he bees will begin swarming along the coast and within six to eight weeks will move through the entire County, depending on how much honey, their food source, is left from last season.

"This will be a year for lots of swarming," Morse said. "There has been little activity for the last two years and with the increase in rain, the blossoms are here, producing more bees per hive."

POSTAL WEEK — Bill Fitzpatrick, left, Spring Valley Postmaster, presents Marie Sabo with a first day cover of all ten Postal People Week stamps. Also in photo are Jenny Lawson and Mrs. Sabo's daughter, April. First day covers will be sold for 80 cents each at the Spring Valley branch as long as they last this week, according to Fitzpatrick, as part of Postal Week celebrations. Also at the main branch, Fitzpatrick said, are several displays of post office articles and stamp collections.

Planners Want Limit On Growth

The meeting of the Valle de Oro Planning Association, held in Monte Vista High School last Wednesday attracted between 125 and 130 persons of the area.

A decision was made on the population of the area, that there should be a 40 per cent growth over the next 20 years. But, there was a stipulation that there be no more than a two per cent growth, in any one year.

Regarding the Helix Highlands Development, it was decided to send a representative to the County Planning Commission, requesting them to defer any action until the VDO Planning Association has a better chance to study and make further recommendations.

Regarding the question of Rancho San Diego, the local association decided that an environmental study should be made with a full report at a later date.

In other business, a nominating committee is to be appointed by the association and the report made at the May 9 meeting. Also, the association's preliminary goals are to be complete within the next two weeks, it was reported.

Van Deerlin Bill Would Keep DST

An original bill calling for a 24-month experiment with year-round "daily saving time" was introduced in the House last week by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif.

The legislation would leave it up to Congress to decide whether to make "double daylight" permanent, following a thorough study of energy savings and other effects of the interim plan proposed by Van Deerlin.

The bill would amend the Uniform Time Act of 1966, which standardizes dates for the annual daylight/standard time cycle. The Department of Transportation, the agency which administers the Uniform Time Act, would also be responsible for preparing the report on the impact of the year-round program.

Van Deerlin recalled that once before the U. S. had gone on permanent Daylight Saving Time, for more than three years during World War II when fuel conservation was the primary goal. A similar trial was conducted by the United Kingdom in the late 1960's.

Van Deerlin said that in offering the bill he was primarily interested in conserving electricity, but he added that the extra hour of daylight stretching into winter evenings also should lead to reduced crime and traffic accident rates.

"At the very least there should be some lessening of the pressure on electric power generating capacity," Van Deerlin said.

A sonic boom is caused by the air in front of a plane being penetrated at a rate exceeding the speed of sound.

Astronaut Col. Charles M. Duke, Jr., who went to the moon on Apollo 16, was the first man inducted into South Carolina's Hall of Fame at Myrtle Beach.

Auditor Oversees $800 Million Annually For County Agencies

How would you like to balance 2 million check stubs?

San Diego County auditor, Gerald J. Lonergan, each year handles $800 million in warrants, which are similar to checks. The county budget accounts for $288 million. He controls the rest on behalf of the several hundred other taxing agencies — 52 school districts like Jamul and San Diego Unified; 170 special districts like Ramona Sanitation District and Lemon Grove Lighting District — as their funds flow into and out of the county treasury.

In addition, he performs many technical duties required by state law and the county charter.

As the chief fiscal officer for the county region, San Diego's auditor is unusual in that he is appointed. In most counties, the auditor is elected.

"Some say the auditor has to be elected to remain independent and regional in his approach," Lonergan said. "However, I'm appointed, and I feel I work for all government agencies within the county which use my services. It's more a matter of mental attitude than a certificate hung on the wall."

San Diego County's auditor wears two hats. Besides his duties as auditor, he also serves as controller. In this post, he conducts internal audits of all County departments, all courts, and county-wide commissions.

As auditor, he examines claims filed against the County and the other agencies he serves, reviews legality and authorizes payments to be made, and approves all deposits in the County treasury.

One part of his work involves him in county-wide law and justice. The auditor sees that all the courts and judges — from the Justice Court in Fallbrook to the Superior Court in San Diego to the Municipal Court in El Cajon — consistently follow the rules set up by the state in regards to fiscal and certain procedural matters. He reviews the jail booking system and Municipal Court prior violation file. He gets a copy of every statement regarding the possessions of each individual booked. He also keeps track of all fines paid, with 75%-94% of traffic fines returned to the cities issuing the citations.

Calculating county-wide tax rates and making out tax bills for all county taxpayers is another complex process in which the auditor is glad to have computer help. He must make out tax rates in 1,700 tax code areas as determined by some 70 taxing agencies and funds. One individual property owner may be subject to tax by 20 agencies.

Lonergan serves as auditor for all school districts, large and small, all special districts under the Board of Supervisors and some districts not under the board. He computes what taxes need to be levied for bonds for all the schools and the majority of special districts, audits collections, and pays bond interest and principal when due.

These bonded debt services deal with one-quarter of a billion dollars of outstanding school and special district bonds and involve 12,000 different bonds maturing each year. Of this amount, only 8 million dollars is county bonded debt; the rest is debt incurred to 60 different districts.

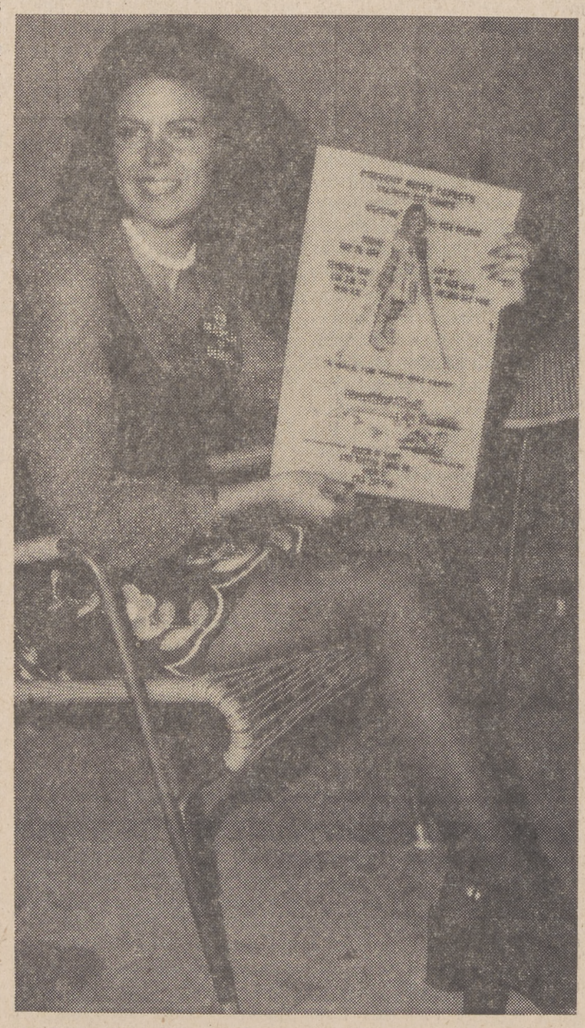
Lonergan audits the Board of Supervisors. When the board adopts an ordinance involving money, the auditor sees that the funds are properly disbursed.

Lonergan verifies payroll records and issues paychecks to 9,000 county employees. The paychecks are in the form of warrants.

"A warrant looks like a check; however, it is not drawn from a bank," said Lonergan. "Instead the money is from the county treasury. We do more business than many banks."

The auditor reviews and establishes accounting systems to be used by departments and units of the county. He operates as a control unit, monitoring accounting procedures.

There are 110 volumes of state laws, each approximately 800 pages, which govern his operation.



CHAIRMAN — When volunteers are asked to walk 20 miles it helps to have some motivation and inspiration. The March of Dimes, which will conduct its second annual Walkathon around Mission Bay May 20, believes it has done just this with the announcement that Lauren Rose McGuire, 1972 Fairest of the Fair, has accepted the walk chairmanship. The attractive 19-year old brunette, noted for her additional titles as Miss Peninsula and Miss Baja, said she is very interested in the March of Dimes' many campaign programs and wants to take an active role in the future.

GASP Meeting Monday Night

Grossmont College's Office of Community Services will serve as host for a special organizational meeting of the Group Against Smoking in Public (GASP) scheduled for 7 p.m., Monday in Sears Community Room, Parkway Plaza, El Cajon.

According to Eugene A. Farrar, dean of community services at the college, the new group is organizing to launch an all-out campaign to inform the public of the dangers associated with the use of tobacco and how non smokers can protect themselves both environmentally and with suits and injunctions through education and legal resources.

Based on the premise that smoking is an obnoxious personal habit that should only be indulged in in private, GASP plans to draw up a formal organization, conduct meetings and activities that will publicize the health hazards involved for the smoker, as well as the non smoker who must breathe smoke-polluted air.

The public is invited to attend this organizational meeting of GASP, become involved and learn how they can protect themselves against this controversial habit. There is no charge for admission to the special meeting.

Five More Join Miss LG Contest

James Alesi, of 2248 Washington, Lemon Grove, is a sophomore at Grossmont College.

She is 5-3 and weighs 115 pounds, has blue eyes and blond hair. She also works at Walker Scott and has ambitions of becoming a commercial artist or an airline stewardess. Miss Alesi likes painting, sewing, cooking, and sports.

The contest will be Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Lemon Grove Junior High School, under the sponsorship of the Lemon Grove Rotary Club.

As contestants in the Miss Lemon Grove Pageant, the girls will be vying for $650 in prizes, including two scholarships and prizes from local merchants.

The winner of the local contest will represent Lemon Grove in the annual Fairest of the Fair Pageant, which is held to select a queen to reign over the Southern California Exposition at Del Mar.

The Fairest of the Fair winner will receive $500 in cash, a $300 gift certificate to Walker Scott, free hair stylings, two scholarships, a trip to San Francisco, and other valuable prizes.

Jamul Girls Get Ribbons

Sheri Snively and Susan Freeman, members of the Jamul Chaparros 4-H Club, received purple ribbons for their recent fashions in the Area No. 1 dress review for 4-H members.

The review, titled "Through the Looking Glass" was held at Emerald Junior High School in El Cajon. Purple ribbons stand for perfect construction.

Both girls also won blue ribbons for modeling their creations.

Others earning ribbons were: Pat Esquibel, Priscilla Esquibel, Annette Bruno, Lisa Clinkscale, Cindy Emerson, Kathy Szmansky, Gay Nierodzinski, and Stephany Arnold.

LG Man Charged With Reckless Driving

A Lemon Grove man was arrested on charges of reckless driving Sunday in connection with incidents in La Mesa.

Taken into custody was Jack B. Chappell, 43, of 7410 Mt. Vernon st., Lemon Grove, after he was found unconscious by La Mesa Police after a series of accidents.

He was charged with reckless driving, failing to stop at "stop" signs and signal lights, and driving on the wrong side of the road.

The first accident occurred at about 2:15 p.m., with two more occurrances reported shortly afterward, all in the Fletcher Parkway area.

Washington, Ga., was the first town to be named after George Washington.

A.R.T. Reports Auto Injury Drop In Grove Area

California Highway Patrol's Accident Reduction Team (A.R.T.) operating in Lemon Grove and west Spring Valley, had good news for local motorists this week.

A.R.T. officer in charge William Pasley reported accidents have been reduced 25% during the first quarter of the year compared to the previous year.

The month ending April 30 showed a dramatic decrease, too.

In 1973 only eight injury causing auto accidents occurred against 21 the year before.

Property damage incidents were down, too. There were 37 in April, 1972 and 32 in April this year. There were no fatalities either year.

Probably because ART's high visibility in the area there was a reduction in "unsafe speed" citizens. Right-of-way violation citations were increased from 16 to 20 while driving under the influence of alcohol decreased from two in 1972 to none this year.

ART's accident chart showed that most accidents in the area are occurring between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. with another surge 7-10 p.m. Most accidents happen midweek, Officer Pasley said. The chart shows Wednesday and Thursday as the accident-prone days.

While emphasis has been on bicycle safety, injury accidents to bike riders has stabilized at three in April in each of the two years.

Club Meets Monday

The Saint John of the Cross Woman's Club will mett Monday at 11:30 a.m. in the St. John's Parish Hall.

Members of the parish are invited. Those attending should bring a sandwich lunch; coffee will be provided.

A Dalton, Ga., drive-in bank now hands out dog biscuits to canines in customers' cars.

Snail Problem? Solve It At Dinner Table

The State Department of Agriculture has come up with the ultimate in biological control of garden pests — eat them!

Ron Hawthorne, an entomologist for the Department, said that the comon garden pest, Helix aspersa, or the European Brown Snail, is an epicurean delight. Eating them is not only a practical method of control for those who don't like to use pesticides on their lawns and gardens, but it is of definite economic advantage too, particularly in light of today's high meat prices.

The preparation of snails as a gourmet item involves two steps — purging and cooking.

First, collect the snails and put them into a large, clean metal or glass container with a heavy lid and some provision for air for about two days. The snails will purge themselves of anything they may have eaten before then.

Then, heat water to boiling in a pan and throw in the live snails. Let them boil for about 15 minutes, remove them from their shells and wash them thoroughly several times. Place them in clean water and boil again for 15 minutes. Remove, rinse, and dry.

Heat a little butter in a frying pan and fry the boiled snails just enough to brown them. They can be served with a tansy sauce.

There are many ways to serve and eat "escargot." Consult your local library or gourmet cookbook.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT — Tom Hernandez, in his annual role as Don Diego for the Southern California Exposition at Del Mar, returns to San Diego in June to begin his 26th year as Don Diego. The Exposition is scheduled for June 22 through July 4. Hernandez first came to the Expo in 1947, and with the exception of 1948, when he was playing a nationwide tour in the "Cisco Kid", has been back every year.

College Board OK's El Cajon Auditorium

Despite the vigorous opposition of William Faulwetter, the lone dissenter on the Grossmont College Board of Trustees, the board last Thursday night approved an agreement with the City of El Cajon to jointly construct an auditorium in El Cajon.

The proposed auditorium, to cost about $1.4 million, would be located on El Cajon's "superblock" complex and would be jointly funded by the city and the college district.

Those who argued in favor of the project insisted that $700,000, which the college district has raised through a special tax for the purpose of constructing an auditorium, could not be spent on anything else.

Dr. Sam Sloan, of Lakeside, who spoke in favor of the project, told trustees "If you vote for an auditorium tonight, we're going to have an auditorium. If you don't vote for an auditorium, we're never, never, never, going to have a community auditorium.

Faulwetter, who vigorously tried to convince fellow trustees that the college should not go along with the project, called it a Mickey Mouse venture and said that there is not enough known about the auditorium to provide assurances that it will be a success.

Music and drama teachers expressed disappointment that the facility would be located so far from the campus.

Year Round School

Schools on year-round programs are growing in number in California and across the nation. In 1971-72 four school systems in the state were operating one or more year-round schools, including the La Mesa-Spring Valley District. Chula Vista, Hayward, and the ABC Unified School District in Artesia.

Miguel Sports Star Stabbed

A Lemon Grove youth was in satisfactory condition at Grossmont Hospital after surgery was performed Monday to repair damage done in a stabbing incident in Lemon Grove Sunday night.

The victim is Gary Klusman, 17, of 1552 San Altos pl., Lemon Grove, a star football, basketball, and baseball player at Mount Miguel High School.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, Klusman, and his brother Terry, 16, went outside their home at about 9:3 p.m. Sunday and confronted a group of juveniles who were allegedly tampering with the victim's automobile.

A fight broke out between Terry Klusman and one of the juveniles, then three other juveniles apparently jumped Gary Klusman and stabbed him during the scuffle.

No arrests were made as of press time.

Hernandez Back As Don Diego For Southern California Expo

Starring in the same role for 26 years has to be some kind of "show biz" record. Especially when the role is that of the romantic Spanish lover Don Diego.

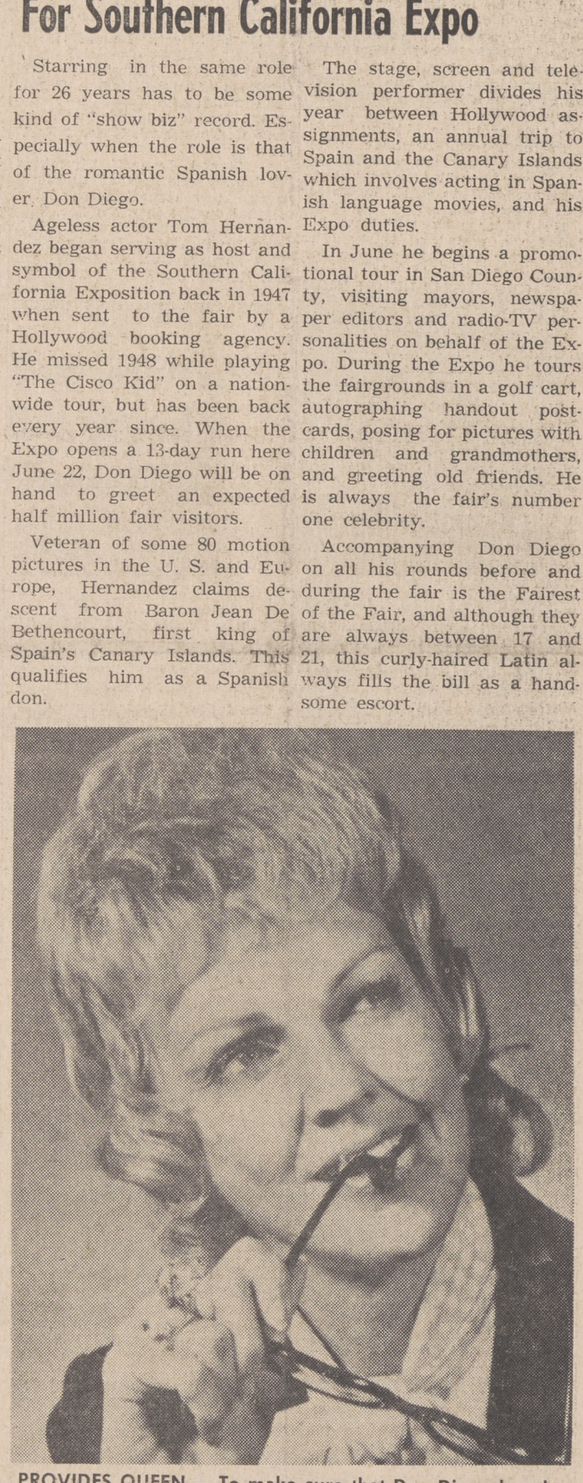
Ageless actor Tom Hernandez began serving as host and symbol of the Southern California Exposition back in 1947 when sent to the fair by a Hollywood booking agency. He missed 1948 while playing "The Cisco Kid" on a nationwide tour, but has been back every year since. When the Expo opens a 13-day run here June 22, Don Diego will be on hand to greet an expected half million fair visitors.

Veteran of some 80 motion pictures in the U. S. and Europe, Hernandez claims descent from Baron Jean De Bethencourt, first king of Spain's Canary Islands. This qualifies him as a Spanish don.

The stage, screen and television performer divides his year between Hollywood assignments, an annual trip to Spain and the Canary Islands which involves acting in Spanish language movies, and his Expo duties.

In June he begins a promotional tour in San Diego County, visiting mayors, newspaper editors and radio-TV personalities on behalf of the Expo. During the Expo he tours the fairgrounds in a golf cart, autographing handout postcards, posing for pictures with children and grandmothers, and greeting old friends. He is always the fair's number one celebrity.

Accompanying Don Diego on all his rounds before and during the fair is the Fairest of the Fair, and although they are always between 17 and 21, this curly-haired Latin always fills the bill as a handsome escort.



PROVIDES QUEEN — To make sure that Don Diego has the best queen to escort to the Exposition, Doris Boyer is currently organizing the Fairest of the Fair Pageant, which will include winners of the local pageants, such as Miss Lemon Grove and Miss Spring Valley. Winners of 25 preliminary contests will compete in the June 7 Fairest Pageant at the Scottish Rite Memorial Center.

Brown Explains Position On Controversial C.P.O.

The regular luncheon meeting of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce was held last Thursday noon at Pal's Cafe, as the chamber played host to Supervisor Dick Brown, who talked about CPO and other subjects.

Bob Russell gave a status report on proposed Broadway landscaping.

Russell told chamber members that the groundwork for the project has been laid and that the next step in attaining the eventual goal of a beautification of the town's main street is formation of a committee to support the project.

He said that the project will be attached to a county service area already scheduled for a proposed park at Massachuetts and Mt. Vernon, but that the park project and the Broadway project would be placed on the ballot separately.

Support is expected to be grouped together at a general meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association next Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Lemon Grove Planning Association next Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Lemon Grove Junior High.

Gary Sweet, co-chairman of the chamber sponsored Old Time Days Carnival, scheduled May 9-13 at Saint John of the Cross Church, reported on progress of the carnival.

Advance tickets are now on sale, he said, and several businesses in the area have purchased tickets and will be offering them free or at cost to patrons of their establishments.

He noted that the tickets, which sell in books of five for $1, represent a substantial savings over the single-ticket prices which will be in effect at the carnival. Tickets at the carnival will range from 35 to 50 cents.

Supervisor Dick Brown told the chamber about his job and explained his position on CPO, the controversial Comprehensive Planning Organization.

Brown told the chamber that the county has yet to join the organization, largely because of a weighted vote formula which gives the City of San Diego 40 votes, the county 30 votes, and other cities in the area a total of 30 votes.

Supervisor Brown said that he was in favor of joining CPO, but added that three supervisors oppose his motion every week, keeping the county out of CPO. Brown said that 30 votes are better than no votes, which is what the county has by not joining.

Other supervisors have expressed that the county should have at least an equal vote with the City of San Diego. Brown said that the cost of operating CPO is now shouldered by its member cities, but that the county would share in the expenses if it were to join.

The county's share would be $113,000, of which 21% would be contributed by the unincorporated area through taxes, so, if the county were to join CPO, taxes in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley would be increased

Another item of note involved a night meeting of the chamber, which was approved for next month. President Dell Lake said he would select the best date, when the most members could attend, and announce the meeting soon.

Dear Editor:

Thank you for taking the time from your busy schedule to attend the media luncheon at the Westgate Plaza on April 17.

Don Galloway and I are very excited about the possibilities of the tremendous impact our June 2 and 3 community-wide free blood pressure screenings will have on the statistics of those who die from heart disease in San Diego County. We were very heartened by the response from those of you attending our announcement luncheon and will appreciate any publicity that you will be able to give this ambitious screening project.

May I say again, that a county-wide project of the magnitude we are geared to put into operation, will require the complete backing and support of all media.

Sincerely,
Raymond Burr
Chairman

College Faculty Recital On Tap

Grossmont College's Department of Music will present faculty members Dr. Robert Emile, violin and Larissa Janczyn, piano in a Sonata Recital at 8 p.m., tomorrow in the Fine Arts Recital Hall.

Dr. Emile and Miss Janczyn will open their recital with Mozart's "Sonata In E♭ Major, K. 481," followed by "Sonata in C minor, Op. 30, No. 2," by Ludwig van Beethoven.

Following a short intermission, Dr. Emile and Miss Janczyn will return to play "Duo Concertant," by Igor Stravinsky and "Sonata in A Major, Op. 13," by Gabriel Faure.

Emile, who has successfully combined the role of educator, conductor and artist, is assistant conductor and concertmaster of the San Diego Symphony Orchestra. He also serves as conductor and music director of the Civic Youth Orchestra. He has been a member of the Grossmont College music faculty since 1964. A distinguished recitalist, Emile has appeared with many leading orchestras.

Miss Janczyn, who has performed with Emile in many recitals, is a native of Odessa, Russia. She graduated from the University of Montana where she received both a bachelors and masters degree in music. While attending the University of Montana, she played numerous recitals and performed with the Missoula Symphony Orchestra.

She joined the music faculty at Grossmont College in 1969. Miss Janczyn has played in various chamber musical recitals and has performed with the San Diego Symphony.

The public is invited to hear two outstanding local talents perform. There is no charge for admission.

Planners Form Bike Trails Subcommittee

Last Thursday's meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association concerned itself mainly with a discussion of the proposed riding and hiking trail along Imperial ave. and Sweetwater rd.

A sub-committee under the co-chairmanship of Josie Ball and G. Walter Coles was formed for the purpose of obtaining further information as to what routes are being presently used by school children in the area; destinations of the new proposed routes; and the safest ways of separating the routes from motor vehicles.

Representatives from local bicycle shops and the junior high schools were invited to attend the meeting.

The alternative land use plans for Lemon Grove were discussed and will be presented to local residents at a general meeting May 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Golden Avenue School. Also on the agenda for the meeting will be a discussion of the proposed election for a new county service area.

Cancer Meeting Set

The next luncheon meeting of the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Branch of the American Cancer Society will be May 10, at noon, hosted by Mrs. Raymond Tetzlaff, branch chairman, at her home.

Staff representative John Vack will show an educational film in the field of cancer.

Again, the group is seeking volunteers to transport patients to treatment centers. Anyone interested should call Mrs. Tetzlaff at 466-3446 or Mrs. Denlinger at 466-0085.

DIET PLANS—Evelyn Lloyd, nutritionist from the Royal Society of Health Control in England, goes over diet plans with Sal Giacinto, of Lemon Grove, for the grand opening of the second outlet of ESP Away, a weight control firm of which Giacinto is president. The program consists of attending meetings where dietary information is given. The meetings concide with lunch and dinner, so while those enrolled in the program attend the meeting, they also get the right start by getting a balanced meal with foods permitted on the program. For details, contact Giacinto at 466-7111.
